

컷 생성 프롬프트 (모델: Seedance 2.5)

A 15-second clay stop-motion scene in 16:9. Handmade plasticine puppets on the same miniature architectural-office set, photographed frame by frame. Three consecutive shots continue directly after @Video1. The entire video takes place in the meeting room.

REFERENCES

@Image1 defines HEADY's resting pose, the opening composition, and the local tabletop dressing: his chin and lower cheeks against the table behind the floating thirteen-pencil pavilion, loose yellow pencils on image left, and yellow sticky-note pads on image right. His hair pencil is separate and stays in his hair.

@Image2 is TEAMMATE 02's character sheet.

@Image3 is TEAMMATE 01's character sheet.

@Image4 is the SUPERVISOR's character sheet.

@Image5 is HEADY's character sheet.

Preserve each character's exact identity, proportions, clothing, accessories, sculpted hair, and craft googly eyes. Never render sheet layouts or labels.

@Image6 defines the office architecture, furniture, props, and lighting. For the tabletop directly around HEADY, @Image1 takes priority over @Image6.

@Image7 is the room's floor plan. It defines only positions and facing directions. Never render its shapes, colors, icons, or labels.

@Video1 is the preceding scene. It ends with the SUPERVISOR's angry close-up shouting "HEADY!". Continue directly from that moment. Retain the collapsed whiteboard from @Video1: dark tower outline, white clay heap, and the one remaining support. Do not restore the intact tower shown in @Image6.

@Image1 to @Image7 are references only. No shot starts from a reference image, and no shot cuts to a reference image. Each shot grows naturally out of the scene.

CAST — ONE ENTRY PER CHARACTER

Each character below is the same person across their character sheet, their floor-plan marker in @Image7, @Image6, and @Video1. Use the character sheet for appearance and the floor-plan marker for position.

The circle colors in @Image7 are diagram codes only. They are NOT the characters' colors.

Reading @Image7: the top of the plan is the whiteboard wall, and the bottom is HEADY's end of the table. The short black line inside each circle shows which way that character faces.

HEADY

Appearance: @Image5. Lavender clay body, messy plum hair with a yellow pencil tucked in, round orange glasses, two small front teeth, orange crossbody satchel.

Floor plan: the purple circle labeled "Heady" in @Image7, at the bottom end of the table, facing the whiteboard.

Props: sticky notes and pencils lie in front of him.

Also seen in @Image1 and @Video1.

SUPERVISOR

Appearance: @Image4. Pale blue-gray skin, wavy green hair, glasses, rust-brown cardigan over a cream collar.

Floor plan: the yellow circle labeled "Supervisor" in @Image7, standing to the left of the whiteboard.

Also seen in @Video1, beside the collapsed whiteboard and in the final close-up.

TEAMMATE 01

Appearance: @Image3. Mauve-purple skin, tall capsule-shaped head, side-swept charcoal hair, thick flat eyebrows, heavy half-lidded eyelids, cream short-sleeved collared shirt, dark-purple necktie.

Floor plan: the blue circle labeled "Teammate 01" in @Image7, on the right long side of the table.

Props: the blueprint sheet lies in front of him.

TEAMMATE 02

Appearance: @Image2. Pale mint-green skin, egg-shaped head, spiky navy hair coils, thin worried eyebrows, thick coral lips, dusty-blue polo shirt.

Floor plan: the red circle labeled "Teammate 02" in @Image7, on the left long side of the table.

Props: the laptop sits in front of him.

No character borrows another's colors, hair, glasses, or clothing. No extra characters.

CORE CONTINUITY

Shot 1 opens with HEADY's chin and lower cheeks against the table, exactly as in @Image1. From the moment he startles, he may lift his head and sit upright for the rest of the video.

The floating pavilion is built from thirteen whole yellow pencils: four upright corner columns, four perimeter beams, four sloping roof rafters forming two gables, and one ridge beam. When it falls, every piece remains a whole yellow pencil with its tip, ferrule, and eraser. No splitting, stretching, melting, or disappearing pencils.

After the collapse, all thirteen pencils lie physically scattered across the tabletop in front of HEADY and stay there for every remaining shot. The sticky notes, laptop, and blueprint sheet remain stationary.

FLOW AND PACING

Keep the total duration at 15 seconds. Let the shot lengths follow the actions naturally.

Shot 1 — HEADY close-up, tabletop height, static camera:

Match the composition of @Image1. The shout from @Video1 has just landed. HEADY gives a small, sharp startle and lifts his head off the table. In that instant the pavilion loses its hold and drops onto the tabletop in a clattering cascade: the roof slides off, the columns topple, and the pencils bounce and roll across the table. One pencil bounces off his plum hair.

As the pencils settle, his expression shifts from startle to flustered guilt, like someone caught slacking off by the boss. Keep it restrained, not exaggerated: his eyes widen only slightly behind his orange glasses, his brows lift a little, and his mouth falls barely open in a small, awkward "uh-oh". His pupils glance down at the scattered pencils, then slowly slide sideways toward where the supervisor's voice came from. His shoulders stiffen and draw up slightly, and he freezes in place, not daring to move.

Shot 2 — wide side view of the whole table, slightly elevated:

The camera stands beside TEAMMATE 01's side of the table, far enough back to show the whole table.

TEAMMATE 01 sits in the near foreground in three-quarter profile, face clearly visible. TEAMMATE 02 sits across the table, facing the camera. The thirteen pencils lie scattered in front of HEADY.

The SUPERVISOR walks from beside the whiteboard along the far side of the table, passing behind TEAMMATE 02, stops right in front of HEADY, leans over the table, and scolds him with stiff pointing gestures at the scattered pencils. The scolding goes on for a while. HEADY shrinks into his chair, shoulders raised to his ears, shrinking a little more with each jab of the finger.

TEAMMATE 01 and TEAMMATE 02 glance at each other, then quickly pretend to be busy: TEAMMATE 02 hides behind the laptop screen, and TEAMMATE 01 lifts the blueprint sheet to cover his face.

Shot 3 — HEADY frontal close-up, eye level:

Frame HEADY from the top of his hair to his shoulders, matching @Image5. The scolding has just ended. He sits slumped, lips pressed into a small wobbly frown, brows tilted up in hurt, eyes looking down behind his orange glasses. The office wall behind him, with bookshelves, a framed drawing, a corkboard, and a plant, is softly out of focus.

He blinks slowly and gives a small sniff, then settles into stillness. End on a quiet held moment of his upset face.

AUDIO

No music.

Shot 1: the delicate mysterious effects from @Video1 cut off abruptly the moment HEADY startles. A small startled gasp, then a rapid clatter of clay pencils hitting, bouncing, and rolling across the table, then quiet office ambience.

Shot 2: the SUPERVISOR's footsteps along the table, then scolding as indistinct but clearly angry grumbling with natural phrasing. Position the voice according to the SUPERVISOR's location and the camera angle. No intelligible words in this video.

Shot 3: quiet office room tone, a small sniff, then near silence for the held ending.

STYLE

Photographed physical clay miniature quality: fingerprints, thumb dents, joined seams, sculpted hair, irregular rounded edges, and tactile props. Warm diffused window light, gentle fill, soft shadows, creamy highlights, and restrained earthy colors. Subtle frame-by-frame puppet acting and smooth camera movement. Quiet, awkward, deadpan humor.

No polished CGI, extra characters, extra limbs, reference-sheet layouts, floor-plan graphics, captions, speech bubbles, logos, or watermarks.
